

SHOOT'S WIFE, KILLS HIMSELF

FIRST TRIP THROUGH RUSSIA BY AMERICANS IS DESCRIBED

Associated Press Correspondent
Tells of Situation After Deportation

GREAT CLAMOR FOR FOOD

Russia Faces Serious Task in Getting Through the Coming Winter

Fibrog, Finland, Russian frontier. Tuesday. (By the Associated Press).—Flushed with success and confident of Poland's defeat Soviet Russia faces the approaching winter with the grim problem of food as its great test of power. From the far east to the Finnish frontier—4,000 miles of undisputed territory—the specter of starvation stalks threateningly as the far reaches give up a cry for the necessities of life from a people whose heart long sturdily in the struggle for "a new day" are forced to heed the demands of want.

The Associated Press correspondent, just arrived here, has observed these conditions in crossing Russia and Siberia all the way from Vladivostok to Moscow and Petrograd. His arrival in Finland followed deportation from Moscow because the authorities had not given advance authorization for crossing Siberia. In Finland surrounded by a sea of ice he observed a Russian people as hurriedly observed while he and a number of refugees made the first trip of Americans across Russia in the past two years.

All Cry For Food
Everywhere in all this trip, from one end of Russia to the other, the cry for food and clothing was heard. It was heard again through the heart of Russia where the crews of locomotives were clad in ragged garments and with sandal-like shoes made from the bark of trees.

As they stoked their engines they begged for black bread from the little group of foreign refugees who were passengers on the train being sent from Moscow to the Finnish frontier.

The appeal for the necessities of living is universal from the people, except from the extraneous class, from the higher military and civil government authorities.

Situation Realized
To Nicolai Lenin the Soviet president according to an accepted report in Moscow is attributed the statement that the Russian people cannot pass through another winter like the last.

Attendant upon the sore plight of the people economically is the ever increasing unrest and revolt. The military organization, disciplined to the core, finds a growing difficulty in carrying out orders by the mailed fist in territory in which it has hitherto been supreme.

Two Years of Control
At the end of the second year that the Bolsheviks have assumed the direction of the proletariat, Russia remains in the firm grasp of this military regime.

The rich black soil in southern Russia is said this year to have produced less than half a crop because of drought. The army is continually despoiling the food stocks while everywhere women, girls and boys are replacing men at all forms of labor.

Industry Breaks Down
The spectacle of stringency is complete with hundreds of dormant factory stocks from the small districts of Irkutsk and Omak through the larger industrial centers of the Urals to the great manufacturing district of Moscow, standing as monuments to an industrial structure bearing all the appearances of having broken down.

DEPOSITS FALL OFF AS USUAL DURING SUMMER

Report Made on Condition of State Banks in North Dakota by Examiner

Deposits in state banks decreased $3,988,963.26 from May 1 to June 30, 1920. It is shown in the report of O. F. Lofte, state examiner, issued today. The report is a compilation of bank statements called for as of date June 30.

The decrease in deposits during this period is only indicative of the usual decrease in deposits during the time between when crops are planted and the harvest. It is stated. The total deposits in the state banks on June 30, 1919, was $124,855,046.01, and on June 30, 1920, was $124,762,083.55.

The compilation also shows a decrease in the reserve from $10,632,178.29 on May 1, 1920, to $14,559,470.29 on June 30, 1920. Many country banks have drawn on their reserves heavily to aid farmers in the summer crop, the liquidation of which soon will be underway. The total reserve was $1,595,077.75, short of requirements, but under a new law the reserve required after July 1, 1920, is $1,000,000.00, which would give a surplus reserve under the new law of over $4,000,000.00.

"BLUE BOOK" OF STATE COMPLETE RECENT HISTORY

Compiled Under Direction of Thomas Hall, Secretary of State

The North Dakota "Blue Book," the first issued since 1913, is now being distributed by the secretary of state. The book contains 593 pages, filled with reports and statistics concerning the state and the state government.

The "Blue Book," which was edited by Secretary of State Thomas Hall, deputy Maurice W. Duffy and others in the office, is declared by many to be the most complete resume of the state government that has ever been published.

The appropriation permitted the printing of 12,000 copies, which are to be distributed to county officials, state institutions, schools and libraries for reference. There are several illustrations in the book and the first pages contain reproductions of the great seal of the state and the American flag.

A part of the book is devoted to the story of the growth of North Dakota, and the almost boundless resources of the state. The time of the most firm belief in the future of the state is Secretary Hall, who believes that North Dakota will in time with full development of her resources be one of the most powerful and productive states in the nation.

In the Thirteenth century, wages and prices in England were fixed by royal decree.

SUNDAY DANCING BARRED ONLY IN CITIES UNDER STATE LAW

No Specific Statute, Says Attorney General, Except When Indulged In Near Religious Service—Generally Considered Nuisance in City

"There is now law against Sunday dancing," said Attorney General Langer today, "provided it is not indulged in near a place where religious services are in progress. There is nothing in the law to prevent Sunday dancing at Elm Grove. They can dance there all day Sunday provided there is no disorderly conduct as far as any state law is concerned."

Mr. Langer was asked for his opinion in connection with an order that was reported to have been given to the proprietors of the Elm Grove park that they must cease dancing at midnight Saturday of each week.

ELECTRIC LINE TO MANDAN HIT BY LIGHTNING

Bolt Plays Havoc With Power Plant and Puts City in Darkness

RAIN OVER WHOLE STATE

Dunn Center Gets Heavy Rainfall of 2.15 Inches Last Night

Bismarck was thrown into darkness about eight o'clock last evening because the electric power transmission line between the station here and Mandan was struck by lightning.

Scarcely the only part of the network which was not effected by the damage to the power plant was the movie theatre. Inside the theatre the small side lights were out and the orchestra was silent, but the picture still moved on the white screen.

At the Power Plant
When the lightning struck the line to Mandan the heavy current ran along the line and into the power plant causing a short circuit between the direct current and the alternating current power lines just inside the building.

This is continued after the lightning flash and it was necessary to cut off the power over the wires to end it. This together with the switch board disturbances caused the arrangement of the generators, so that it was necessary to "build-up" the generators again. This accounts for the delay after bolt struck.

Rainfall Over State
The rainfall extended quite generally over the entire state. Bismarck received very little rain as compared with other sections. Dunn Center had a heavy rain, over two inches of water falling there. Reports from the weather bureau this morning indicate that rainfall was general throughout Montana and the northern plains southward over most of Nebraska, western Kansas and northwestern Oklahoma; and also over most of Ohio, Kentucky and eastern Michigan.

The indications are that the weather will be fair tonight and Thursday, being cooler tonight and somewhat warmer on Thursday.

The Rainfall
The following rainfall was reported at North Dakota stations: Amala 1.5; Bismarck 1.4; Bottineau 2.2; Bowbells 3.9; Devils Lake 2.0; Dickinson 3.5; Dunn Center 2.15; Ellendale 1.6; Fessenden 2.3; Grafton 1.4; Grand Forks 1.5; Langdon 2.5; Laramie 1.7; Lisbon 4.8; Minot 3.2; Napoleon 0.8; Pembina 0.4; Wahpeton 0.2; Williston 0.2; Moorhead 3.0.

GOVERNOR COX STARTS SPEAKING TOUR TO COVER ENTIRE COUNTRY

First Speech Will Be Delivered at Camp Perry, Ohio—Harding Sticks to Front Porch Campaign

Dayton, O., Aug. 11. Departure of Governor Cox today from Dayton marked the opening of "campaign" scheduled to take him from coast to coast and into almost every state before November 1.

The controversy also was brought up again when Rev. Boyd of Jamestown complained of Sunday morning dancing at a local roof garden. While public opinion usually regulates these matters, Mr. Langer explained there is no specific law against Sunday dancing. (Usually Sunday dancing, it is pointed out, when indulged in publicly in a city becomes a nuisance and is stopped on that ground as disturbing the peace.) Considerable discussion has been started in Bismarck since Rev. Boyd's sermon and the local aspects of the matter were more or less agitated.

URGES FOREIGN TRADE BODY TO SEEK U. S. TRADE

Bankers' Association Committee Makes Public Recommendations for Extension

New York, August 11. The organization of a foreign trade financing corporation on lines endorsed by the American Bankers' Association and the selection of John McHugh, New York banker, as chairman of the board of directors of the corporation, are urged by the Administrative Committee of the American Bankers' Association in a resolution made public today.

The purpose of this corporation will be to maintain and develop foreign markets for American products, according to a statement issued here by William F. Collins, secretary of the association's commerce and marine committee, of which Mr. McHugh is chairman.

With "amply sufficient" resources and an efficient personnel, the statement continued, it is planned to enlist cooperation on a "wide and effective scale" by banks of the country, exporters and importers, manufacturers and producers generally.

The capitalization of the proposed corporation may be $100,000,000, it was said, and the tentative date for its organization is January 1, 1921.

Representation on the board of directors, the statement added, will reflect stock subscriptions in the various sections of the country; and the corporation will give the foreign trade interests of the different sections attention proportionate to their absorption of the corporation's debentures.

The personnel of the board of directors and officers of the corporation will not be announced until Mr. McHugh returns from Europe.

AMERICA BACKS INDEPENDENCE FOR THE POLES

Secretary Colby's Note Also Says U. S. Stands Against Russ Dismemberment

RECOGNITION WITHHELD

Opposes Armistice Negotiations Drawing European Nations in Conference

Washington, Aug. 11.—Poland will ask immediate aid from the United States in its fight against the Russian Soviet government, Count Lobumirski, the Polish minister announced today.

The aid requested, it was said, probably will be confined to a request for an extension of credit by the United States for the purchase by Poland of surplus war stocks. Permission to purchase 250,000 army uniforms and 200,000 pairs of shoes from the war department stock already had been asked of the department by the Polish legation.

Washington, Aug. 11. The position of the American government in the Polish situation was today before the world.

Stated briefly the United States stands as favoring preservation of the political and territorial integrity of Poland, and as opposing any dismemberment of Russia. The outlines of this policy were set forth in the note dispatched yesterday by Secretary Colby to the Italian ambassador.

To the end that Poland shall continue as an autonomous state the American government, Secretary Colby declares, in his note, will follow a policy "directed to the employment of all available means to render it effectual."

Won't Recognize Soviet
In discussing the situation resulting from the sweep of the Soviet armies into Poland, Secretary Colby takes occasion to reiterate the government's previously announced decision not to recognize the Soviet regime which is characterized as a non-representative government whose only strength is brutal force.

Since department officials refuse to elaborate in explanation of the pledge taken in the note to employ all available means to uphold the territorial integrity of Poland.

COUNTER-MOVE PLANNED

Warsaw, Aug. 11. A counter-move and regrouping of the Polish forces for an extensive counter stroke on the entire Warsaw front is reported by today's newspapers.

The plans are, it is said, to begin this counter-move within a few days. Military men express the opinion that this is a propitious time to strike back in an effort to drive off the Soviet forces which are endeavoring to encircle the capital.

TROTZKY SPEAKS

Petrograd, Aug. 11. Leon Trotzky, military dictator of Russia, in addressing the seventh All-Russian conference is quoted as saying that the Bolsheviks are working to rebuild the nation.

The Bolsheviks of Russia have emphasized everywhere to emphasize education efforts among both the civilian population and the soldiers of the Red army.

They are also caring for the children in state institutions. Much of the instruction deals with the doctrines of communism, the dictatorship of the proletariat, the revolution, and class war.

Russian opponents to Bolshevism declare that such instruction serves only to convert the people more firmly in the belief that there is no possibility of realizing their need through methods such as are now being used.

ANTI-TOWNLEY FORCES GATHER AT DICKINSON

Representatives of Seven Counties Favor L. V. A. Plan for Fall Action

NAME TEMPORARY CHIEFS

Southwestern Section of State Divided Into Three New Groups for Campaign

Dickinson, Aug. 11. The seven counties included in the original Dickinson group sent representatives to a meeting here yesterday afternoon called by the Anti-Townley Joint committee and went on record as favoring the plans presented by Secretary Theo. G. Nelson of the Independent Voters' association and jointly sponsored by the three political organizations who have decided to rid North Dakota of Townleyism this fall.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Sveinbjorn of the Democratic State Central committee. C. Turner of Dickinson was elected chairman of the meeting and R. J. List of Bowman secretary.

In order to carry out the adopted plans for the coming campaign it was decided to divide the southwestern corner of the state into three separate groups with a district supervisor for each. The three counties along the Northern Pacific main line, Stark, Williams and Golden Valley, form one group, with Walter Cushing of Beach as district supervisor; Slope, Bowman and Adams along the Milwaukee road form another with Emil Secow as supervisor and Bowman and Sioux with the possible addition of Grant form a third district with the N. P. branch line as the main artery, and Charles Simon of New England as district supervisor.

To take charge of the preliminary organization work in the several counties temporary chairmen were elected as follows:

Stark, C. C. Turner, Dickinson; Williams, Carl B. Olson, Medora; Golden Valley—A. J. O'Keefe, Beach.

Slope, A. B. Lundquist, Amidon; Bowman, R. J. List, Scranton; Adams, Henry Moen, Hettinger; Hettinger, W. S. Jones, New England.

The meeting also went on record as favoring the resolutions passed at the other group meetings, the most important of which is the one expressing the desire to limit the number of campaign speakers in the state to the various candidates for president and vice president.

PLAN BIG TIME FOR LEGION AT MINOT MEETING

Plenty of Entertainment Assured Yanks Who Visit the Magic City

TOLEDO GIRL, ON HONEY-MOON, INHERITS A MILLION

TOLEDO—How would you like to come into an inheritance of a million dollars "cold turkey"? A Toledo girl recently a war worker in France, has done just that. She is Mrs. Margaret Ashley Paddock, daughter of Henry W. Ashley, and granddaughter of Wellington R. Burt, multimillionaire railway magnate of Saginaw, Mich., whose estate has just been divided.

Mrs. Paddock, whose mother is dead, gets $933,333 1/3, one-sixth of the estate. Mrs. Paddock was graduated from Smith College in 1914, and took a Master's degree at Columbia in 1916. She went over seas with the Smith college unit of 24 girls. She was married last November to Captain Leon Paddock, 19th field artillery. The couple are now in Honolulu on their honeymoon.

OVERFOND OF LAW

Litigation Called Curse of Gold Coast Natives.

No Dispute Seems Too Small to Be Taken into Court—Quarrels Among Petty "Chiefs" Provide Fat Fees for Native Lawyers.

The Gold Coast, on the west coast of Africa, is a paradise of lawyers, say Ethel and Oluf Letheridge, special correspondents of the London Daily Telegraph. They write:

A point which must be made in connecting both with Ashanti and the northern territories is that these administrations are independent of the Gold Coast, proper, except in so far as they acknowledge a common governor who resides at Accra. They are also included in the financial estimates of the colony as a whole, and receive military aid if it is required. Of course, they work through the secretariat, which is the channel of communication to the governor. Beyond this they are free. They have their own courts, their own police, their own methods of administering justice and their own internal legislation.

Now, this may seem a small matter, but, in all truth, it is pregnant with importance for the future of this colony. The matter in a nutshell is the simple fact that the courts of Ashanti and the northern territories will not permit the employment of native or European barristers under any circumstances.

They prefer, and quite rightly so, to deal with the native population, by their chiefs or laborers.

Now the curse of the Gold Coast is litigation. Whatever may be said about the total population of the colony, there are enough lawyers in the three towns of Sekondi, Cape Coast and Accra to make a good-sized English country village. They fairly tumble over one another. Yet they are all prosperous, they all have their motors and send their daughters to places like Cheltenham to be educated.

How on earth can it be done? Is the natural query. The answer is that the gold mine they are tapping is the national chiefs. In this connection it must be remembered that, with very few exceptions the word "chief," as here employed may mean little more than the headman of a village. Forever are these petty despots quarrelling over land questions, the delimitations of their boundaries, and so forth.

In Ashanti questions of this nature can be pleasantly and satisfactorily settled within an hour or two, perhaps, at practically no expense to anybody.

Not so upon the Gold Coast. The "cocoon standard" has set the pace. All these little people have money, and as soon as they covet their neighbors' land they fly to a native lawyer, or a native lawyer, even more probably, flies to them, and the interminable game of litigation starts. It may last three months, or it may last three years—the latter if the lawyers think it worth while.

Counsel are employed at altogether disproportionate fees over the most pettifoggish matters, and so it goes on until the rival claimants shake hands over having at least one thing in common—they are in bankruptcy. This is no exaggeration.

In one case at Addah, the time occupied over settling a little dispute was a fortnight, and the defending counsel, who lost the case for his client, received as a fee the sum of $6,000. Another, a ruling chief who shall be nameless, since he occupies a very important position, has the doubtful pleasure of an overdraft of $40,000 at his bank every penny of which has been frittered away over lawyers.

NEW YORK G. O. P. UNITES TO END TAMMANY'S RULE

State Convention Selects Winning Ticket, Is Belief Expressed

SEE HARDING VICTORY

Washington, Aug. 10.—New York state is safely Republican, as the result of the developments during and since the Saratoga convention, according to reports received in congressional circles.

It is believed that the Republican convention placed a strong ticket in the field, that antipathy to further control of the State by Tammany will prevent the re-election of Governor Smith, that the extreme unpopularity of the Wilson administration will win many Democratic votes, and that the entire state will be swept in by a majority of upwards of 200,000, with the result, as Job Hedges has said, that the Republicans next March will inaugurate and not appoint a President.

Col. William Hayward, who led a negro regiment to France during the war, has this to say of New York politics:

"Much the same lack of vision on the part of our Democratic opponents, much the same opportunism and quick doctrine is in evidence in their leadership in New York state as in the nation. The Democratic party is so divided on national issues it was necessary for President Wilson and the new nominee, Governor Cox, to resort to that 'secret diplomacy' Mr. Wilson so abhors, and to have a closed-door conference, followed by cryptic statements that they are in perfect accord. This in lieu of the open covenants 'openly arrived at' Mr. Wilson has so long prated about.

Tiger's Claw

"In the state the disagreements have gone even further. Every Tammany official damns every other Tammany official. The great Democratic editor damns the Tammany Governor. The Tammany governor damns the Tammany Public Service commissioner, the appointee of the Tammany governor, who damns the Mayor in return. The Tammany District Attorney and the Tammany Police Department accuse each other of all the crimes in the category. The Tammany Comptroller damns the Tammany Mayor and the Tammany Chamberlain, and is by them damned in return. And each gives competent and material facts to prove the truth of his assertions.

"The importance of all this to the people of the state lies in the fact that in these accusations those officials are nearer right than they have ever been in their public lives before because of the peculiarly intimate knowledge they have of each other. It is expert testimony, the truth of which we admit, and it is one league, a 'League of Damnation,' that the Republican party ratifies without reservation.

Dirty Linen to Wash

"But because they are washing their indescribable dirty linen in public now, does not mean they will not present a solid front when the time comes to open another grab bag. 'The people of the state know Tammany Hall, and it is no greater power than it is today. So low has the Democratic party fallen in state and nation that not only has Tammany placed Alfred B. Smith in the Executive Mansion, not only will it try to do so again, but it loudly proclaims that it nominated Cox as the Democratic candidate for the presidential duty.

"That is only one side of the Tammany menace. Beyond that is the integrity of our electoral franchise. Never before today have we faced such a disturbing condition. This year for the first time in the history of the City of New York Tammany is in control of all the election machinery. There is a Tammany Gov-error, a Tammany superintendent of elections, a Tammany District Attorney, a Tammany Mayor, and a Tammany Police commissioner.

"It is a warning and a portent of what we may expect. It is an additional reason to gird on our armor and fight for the party of principle."

UNFAIR TO CROOM

Why Should Man Be Denied "Ancestral Harness?"

Bride Allowed to Take Pride in Wearing the Gown in Which Grandmother Was Married, but for Him, Nothing Doing.

Why does a man never get married in ancestral harness? asks a writer in the New York Evening Sun.

One reads in the report of a recent wedding in New Haven, Conn., that "the bride (Miss Dorothy W. Day) wore a gown which was worn by her grandmother when the latter was married fifty years ago."

In other cases it is not the entire gown, but the "bridal dress was trimmed with rare old lace that was part of the wedding finery of the bride's great grandmother when that estimable lady was married, about seventy-five years before."

But who ever read, "Mr. Bridegroom was quite handsome in a suit of black which was worn by his grandfather, the Hon. John Bridgegroom, when the latter married Miss Mehtable Spanker in 1800?"

Nor does one ever learn from a modern wedding report: "The bridegroom's feet were clad in shoes that his great-great grandfather, Capt. Peddledad Timkin, wore at Bunker Hill and Valley Forge. The shoes, with only slight restoration necessary, are in marvelous condition and lent a distinctly revolutionary flavor to the bridal occasion."

In fact, the bridegroom's clothing never gets mention, beyond "the conventional black." If it did it would be only to relate some disaster too important, unusual or ridiculous to be omitted, even in a wedding narrative.

Two chief reasons are advanced for the lack of ancestral male garments at the bridal altar. One reason is the difficulty of making a man look even passable in his grandfather's rig, whereas a girl becomes more beautiful in the quaint garments of a bygone day. Moreover, a man appearing for his wedding in a John Hancock coat and knickers would claim more attention than the bride, and that would be fatal at any wedding.

But the real reason why a man does not marry in his grandfather's scenery is because it is not. Grandmother put her wedding dress carefully away and preserved it for her children. Granddad put his away for the nonce, but he was in no circumstances to preserve a perfectly good suit for another generation. He needed it in his own business. So eventually his bridal attire went the way of all men's clothing.

But it would be refreshing, some critics of the times say, to read once in a while in wedding reports:

"The bridegroom's sweet shape was admirably set off by the bridal pants worn seventy-five years ago by his paternal grandfather, the celebrated Spudde Binglewhiffle, on the occasion of his marriage to the beautiful Prudence Winterbottom."

Madrid Jammed With People.

Spain's abstention from the war has not prevented a housing crisis in that country. In the large cities the demand for apartments is so great that new buildings are leased from roof to basement before construction is fairly under way.

In Madrid the population has increased 30 per cent since the outbreak of the war. The recent arrivals are not only newly enriched Spaniards, but also refugees and visitors from belligerent countries, who during the war sought the Spanish capital as a peace oasis. The population of the city is now approximately one million, or an average of seventy-two for every building. Its density of population is believed to be greater than that of any other large town in Europe, or 271 per hectare (more than 100 per acre) as compared with 200 per hectare in Paris and 128 in London.

In the central part of the city the population reaches 778 per hectare. It should be recalled in this connection that the buildings do not as a rule contain so many floors as in our country.

KIDDIES POUR OUT COIN FOR MARNE STATUE

Over $800 Given by School Children of North Dakota Toward Fund

INCIDENTS ARE RELATED

School children of North Dakota have contributed $850.00 toward America's gift to France—a statue sculptured by MacMonnies, to commemorate the valiant fight of the French at the first battle of the Marne. The statue is to be placed on the battle field.

Many kiddies contributed only pennies but they contributed cheerfully. Many of the girls and boys contributed from their savings banks, and many children whose fathers were in France contributed larger amounts. One little Valley City girl it was reported approached the teacher with 50 cents she had saved up and when the teacher suggested that it was too large an amount to give the little girl replied:

My papa was overseas and when he came back I didn't know him and I hope there won't be another war. Mrs. Carl Farup, of Park River, a state chairman of the fund. The state quota is $2,500. Miss Minnie J. Nelson, state superintendent of public instruction, was asked to supervise the collections of pennies in the schools and each county superintendent was named county chairman. Over $250,000 has been raised in the United States for the fund.

Cavalier Leads. Cavalier county children contributed the largest amount—$135.00. Some counties contributed nothing among them Burleigh county. The spirit of the children was evinced at one place in Oliver county where a little girl had no money to give but brought five one-cent stamps.

Contributions of some other counties follow: Cass county $20.44, Logan, $83.73, Stutsman $4.11, Barnes, $9.11, LaMoure, $90.25.

The MacMonnies statue as America's gift to France, will be in reality a gift of the children of America.

BENSON SENDS BULLET INTO HIS OWN HEAD AFTER TRYING TO KILL WIFE

Entering the front room of the house Benson was found lying on the floor by the side of the bed in his nightclothes face down ward. He had lost a great deal of blood. The center of the chest was wet with blood and the blood oozed out from the back of Benson's head about his head and chest.

Neighbors had been awakened by the sound of the shooting but few of them left their homes. The dawn was just beginning to break as the officers went in and out of the house and neighbors peered from behind half drawn curtains.

Mrs. Benson went to sleep in the hospital shortly after she was taken there and her wounds were dressed. Officers waited until about 10 a. m. when they talked to the woman. Again she had difficulty in talking. The bullet had entered her mouth and come out the back of her head. Every once in a while during her brief conversation she was forced to halt because of the bleeding wound.

She said that her husband has been acting queerly and that he shot her and then killed himself.

Police Called Before. This morning was not the first time that policemen had been called to the Benson home. About eight years ago it is said family difficulties resulted in both Benson and his wife being driven out of the house by a relative at the point of a gun. Four years ago they were called there on a report that a gun was stolen it is said.

Mr. Benson is said to have left his husband about that time going to Fargo. She had claimed, it is said that he showed her no affection. She still clings to her affection for him, apparently, and is said to have called him repeatedly on the long-distance telephone. She returned to Bismarck and joined her husband again after a time, it is said.

Mrs. Benson kept the door locked according to neighbors. The grocery or butcher boy even Benson himself could gain entrance only by knocking on her door they say. One of the neighbors said she had hardly spoken to Mrs. Benson in seven years. The woman seemed not to desire to be on intimate terms with her neighbors.

Both Benson and Mrs. Benson are said to be natives of Sweden. According to a relative, Mrs. Benson came to North Dakota about 14 years ago after having lived in New York for several years.

Awakened by Shots

Mrs. Pessie Murphy living next door to the Benson ghost house was one of the first people awakened by the trouble. She was sleeping in a front room probably 15 feet from the Benson home.

There were three shots, she said. They seemed muffled and soundless. They might be in the next block. I thought someone might be shooting a dog. In a little while I heard screaming and then a man came down the street and soon a policeman came up.

An unusual incident which happened yesterday noon was related by Mrs. Murphy. She was sitting on the curb with another woman on a automobile. A man came up to them and asked:

Have you seen any trouble in this block?

He looked at them with piercing eyes. An unusual look in his face gave the attention of both. The woman was rather startling and the man's appearance was so he had not been had offended. He came back and apologized.

The description of the man allies

SHE WOULD OFTEN FALL TO THE FLOOR FROM DIZZINESS

Since I started taking Tanlac my friends tell me they never saw me look so well before and I tell them I never felt better before which is a fact, and not only this but I have also gained 12 pounds in weight.

said Mrs. Willa Morrison 749 York street, St. Paul, Minn.

For the past six years I had suffered from a bad form of stomach trouble and before taking Tanlac was in a badly run-down condition. I could not eat meat of any kind at all and had to confine myself strictly to a vegetable and cereal diet, as I could not retain anything else.

My nerves were in terrible condition and at times I would become so nervous that I would fall in a faint. Why upon one occasion I fell to the floor one of these spells and lay there perfectly unconscious for hours before anyone found me. I tried many treatments and medicines without getting any relief and had just lost all hope of ever feeling anything to help me so you can imagine my surprise when I commenced to improve almost as soon as I began taking Tanlac.

Well, I continued taking it until today an entirely rid of my stomach trouble and can eat just anything I want meat or anything else and everything agrees with me perfectly. My nerves are simply in fine condition and thanks to Tanlac never have those dreadful nervous tizzy spells any more which came so near killing me why even my kids which have given me trouble ever since I was fifteen years old and which I thought nothing could do to me—good—never expected to receive any help from Tanlac.

My very little trouble now in so I ceased over what Tanlac has done for me I will gladly answer an inquiry regarding my case and I am always telling others what a grand medicine I think it is.

Tanlac is sold in Bismarck by Jos. G. Rowland in Driscoll by N. D. and I. H. Fariette in Wing by H. P. Hoeman and in Strasburg by Strauburg Drug Co.

exactly with that of Benson. His previous action had caused Mrs. Murphy to seek to learn if it were not Benson.

Pride in Lawn

Ben Benson was a mild mannered hard working man according to Mrs. Ed Roberts who lives on the north side of the ghost house.

The Bensons had lived there near ten years, said Benson took a great pride in his lawn and sprinkled it almost religiously. He also kept the grounds neat and the house had been painted white.

Benson was a cement worker and had also learned the brick laying trade Mrs. Roberts said.

Friends Surprised

Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Benson expressed surprise at the tragedy of early today.

I knew them both well, said Duncan McGillis and they always were the salt of the earth to me.

Both of them were thrifty and had worked hard to accumulate their money. Wealthy according to friends many friends believed them always to have been a happy couple. Mr. Benson was considered an excellent man at his trade and Mrs. Benson was said to be a highly intelligent woman.

Both had sprung from excellent families friends say.

STOP WASTE OF GASOLINE, WORD TO MOTORISTS

Waste of gasoline by all the cars in the United States is estimated at one-half gallon a day or approximately $38,575,000 gallons a year, declares a representative of the local Goodcar Service station.

This waste is due to all the motorists when starting not having their fuel properly adjusted and neglecting to coast up to a normal down grade.

It would be a valuable owner of these cars to have a check-up on their tires. Many one-half inch of their tires wear out each day, during which thousands of barrels of oil are used.

Sanders of Indiana Gives Figure to Show Extravagance of Government Control

PLAN WAS LESS EFFICIENT

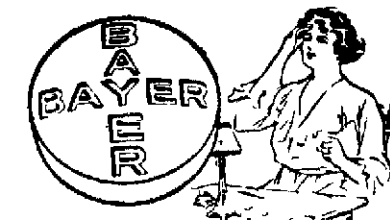

Washington, Aug. 11.—That during the past year the government control of the railroads has cost $1,600,000 a day in striking contrast to the improvement in the roads were the figures given by a Republican congressman in a statement of fact and figures in the House of Representatives today.

It is a fact that there has been such an extension of the government control of the railroads that the government has been forced to pay for the operation of the roads at a cost of $1,600,000 a day.

The director of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, Mr. C. P. Nease, in a report to the House Committee on Appropriations on June 1, 1919, that the cost of the government control of the railroads was $1,600,000 a day.

BELIEVE SKULLS ARE REMAINS OF MURDERED NORSE

Bones Found in Minnesota May Be Those of Runestone Men of 1362

Barrett, Minn., Aug. 11.—The skulls of 12 men recently found near the residence of Mrs. O. P. Barrett at first thought to be all that remains of a party of Indians are now believed to be the skulls of a party of Norsemen who, according to the Kensington Runestone, found several years ago, came westward on an exploring journey in 1362.

The skulls and partial skeletons found on the Barrett property were unearthed when Barrett decided to cut down an oak tree near his house. After the tree was felled, Barrett began the work of removing the stump. The roots of the oak penetrated a layer of stone, apparently laid by hand and under this layer the graves of the men were found.

The fact that the bodies were buried in the manner they were found indicates that the Runestone inscription was made by this party. The inscription as translated by the Minnesota Historical Society follows: "Eight Goths and 22 Norwegians re upon a journey of discovery from Vinland westward. We camped by two skerries one day's journey from this stone. We were out fishing one day. When we returned we found a man and with blood and dead a V. A. (Ave Virgo Maria) save us from evil. (We) have to men by the sea to look after our vessel 14 (or 41) days journey from this island. Year 1362." Barrett is about one day's journey north of Kensington. Assuming that the Norsemen succeeded in killing three members of the party that attacked them, and that all were thrown into the grave which Barrett unearthed the find would tally exactly with the Runestone inscription.

RECIPE TELLS HOW TO SENSE MOTOR CAR'S REAL VALUE

Recipe To determine how long a motor car is how long it will last with proper usage. Take the complete car, boil it in an electric kettle until it is a gas. If the gases in glass tubes weigh the gases with the residue of the metals and steels. Q. E. D.

Not that a whole car is actually burned up but the process of changing into gases sample chips from each kind of material used represent the new way to test motor cars.

It is part of the highly scientific operations which have been developed in the metallurgical laboratories of the Wallys Overland at Toledo. This new test replaces the break truck speeding around a saucer track on a stripped chassis which in the early days of the industry was considered the real way to find out what a motor car would do.

Tests for the Overland go atom deep. The chemist is the right hand adviser of the engineer. The drop-forged, the grinding machine man, the moulder and the mechanic who assembles the parts together for the owner's test. Every steel and metal is tested for endurance, quality and its fitness for the work to be performed in the complete car.

Before the metallurgists of the Wallys Overland stand rows of little glass tubes holding powders and gases which are, literally, condensed carned automobiles. And the legends on the bottles and the tubes tell the story of riding comfort the Triple Springs will give the stamina of the car under rough usage and its economy of operation.

The process is thorough and exacting.

HOW TO MAKE A MILLION QUICK

The Swiss says: "Take a 10 pound banknote into France and change it for 420 silver francs. Take your francs to Switzerland where those francs will buy 2,100 Italian paper lira. Then proceed to Italy and change your paper lira into silver lira.

You now have 2,100 silver lira. Return to Switzerland and you exchange your 2,100 silver lira into 2 1/2 Swiss francs as the silver lira are accepted in Switzerland as equal in value to Swiss francs.

Now buy French paper money and you will receive 4,200 French francs. Now return to France with your 4,200 French francs, and there you can purchase about 100 pounds sterling. At least it can be done theoretically. Practically it is Skirts are shorter! At least ten inches from the ground is to be the advocated length for popular fall wear, according to the recent fashion show at the Hotel Commodore, New York.

Pretty, shapely ankles will, therefore, be a most important feature. To be really beautiful the ankle should be in proportion to one's height and weight and should measure slightly more than half the size of the calf, tapering gradually so that the lines are graceful.

How to Have Them
Nature may not have endowed you with this grace but exercise and massage will improve the shape of unsightly ankles in a very short time.

The following exercise will be found most beneficial.
First of all, relax in a comfortable position with the knees crossed so that one foot is raised from the floor, thereby taking any support from it. Taking each foot in turn, exercise from the ankle, twisting the foot in a circular motion and then up and down, being sure that all the work is done from the ankle bone. This produces perfect flexibility.
After going through these motions for at least ten minutes the feet should be plunged into a tepid foot bath and then thoroughly dried while the skin is soft and pores open massage well with camphorated oil or a strong solution of alum for reducing purposes, pure olive or almond oil when one wishes to develop.

NEW BATHING COSTUME OF BLACK SILK

BY CORA MOORE.
New York's Fashion Authority.
New York, Aug. 11.—The model shown here is a very smart costume for ocean bathing, worn by Beatrice Anderson in "Honey Girl".
It is a simple slip of black pique with a narrow cash of the same material ties at the side. The knickerbockers are very wide but encase the knees tightly. An odd block design of white wool distinguishes this bathing suit.
A cap of green rubber flowers completes the costume.

An excellent method that will hasten results is to bind the ankle over night in a surgical bandage soaked in the massage oil. Be sure that it is not so tight that free circulation is interfered with. In the morning, after removing the bandage apply cold water so that the skin will become hardened and firm.

Care of the Instep.
This treatment followed carefully, if for only two weeks, will produce shapely, graceful ankles so much admired and particularly essential the coming season.

After the ankle the instep is of most importance. In order to avoid falling arches, which are not only painful but ugly, any treatment that stimulates the tired muscles will strengthen the foot and assist nature in carrying its weight. Therefore massage the instep night and morning for a few minutes, using only an upward motion, and whenever possible during the day rest the feet on a pillow. It is better to remove the shoes for this purpose, as the blood will then circulate more freely and the tired muscles will become completely relaxed.

TEN DOLLARS IS RATE ON SUNDAY SHAVES IN N. D.

Edward Bannon was arrested Sunday morning by Sheriff Rollin Welch, on complaint of George Dolan, another barber, charged with violating the Sunday closing law.

The case came before Justice W. S. Casselman and the minimum fine of $10 and costs was assessed against Bannon. Ed Allen prosecuted the case for the state.

The traveling man, who was being shaved at the time Bannon was arrested, offered to pay the fine for him.

The defendant claimed that he was in the shop for the purpose of cleaning up and shaved the man as a favor to a customer and received no money for it.

FOUND! ACTRESS WHO LIKES VAMP ROLES

MISS HELEN BOLTON

Copyright, 1920, by Moffett, Chicago.

New York, Aug. 11.—Helen Bolton, who won fame in "Oh Lady Lady," and has since created "vamp" roles in many Broadway successes, shatters the popular illusion that she dislikes such roles.

"Emphatically, I do like vamp roles," she says. "Not the popular green version caparisoned with such 'props' as tight clothes, intriguing eyes, and daggers. She is neither clever nor subtle."

"But consider the normal young woman of fairly regular proportions who dresses after a sane fashion, likes Irvin Cobb, goes to baseball games, and may even know how to cook—naturally she has some weaknesses. Perhaps she writes poems she does not mean, or smiles an occasional limp lie into almost sincere masculine eyes the understanding, the humorous, the lovable, the changeable the Great Contradiction without malice but with an infinite capacity for entertainment she is the vamp I like to play and try to play."

There May Be Delay in Moving Your Telephone

If you order your telephone moved next week you may be told to expect a delay in getting it done.

Nearly half a million other telephone users in the United States will move their telephones this month, too. And for all of them many carloads of wire and other materials will be needed.

A general shortage of materials, as well as a lack of sufficient transportation facilities, is holding back factory output and the telephone companies can't get enough supplies. The factories are months behind in their orders.

In this emergency it will be greatly appreciated if you will order the least possible changes in your telephone equipment. And when you need to have something done please let us know as far in advance as possible.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

IRRIGATE IT

Don't sprinkle your back-yard garden. Irrigate it.

Ever hear some old back-yard weather prophet cynically advise that that shower was only sufficient to wet the top of the ground and let the sun bake it to a crisp. Well, you sprinkle the garden in imitation of a rainfall. But the old garden hose would have to be employed for hours to get the effect of a good rain.

After the garden is planted certain reservations should have been made for small home-made ditches. As nearly as possible these ditches should have a slight fall to the far end of the garden. They need not be more than four inches deep at the beginning and seven or eight inches deep at the end. Ditches should extend the full length of the garden at from six to eight-foot intervals. Once each week this improvised irrigation system should be filled to capacity.

It's not too late to start now and you will be so pleased that next year you'll establish a complete system in the back-yard farm.

Quite properly, the Russians and Poles are wrangling over the disposition of General Wrangel.

BIKING IN NIPPON

When a Japanese in America wants to delight and startle his former cronies in a village somewhere north of Kobe, he sends home a bicycle. It becomes instantly something for folk to crowd out of the teahouse to see. Resplendent in its white enamel and gilt, the fantastic flashing of its wheels, the dexterity which the new rider quickly assumes, make something to talk about of evenings.

Roy Kitutas, a Jap waiter of Piqua, Ohio, has just set his native village in Nippon agog by such a present to a friend. But do not think it was the first one they had seen in the little town of Honshu Island. There are already 200,000 bikes in Tokio alone, and country roads through all the cherry-blossoming isles whirr with them.

It is merely that the cost of a bicycle in Japan is about that of a flivver in this country. With the adaptability of the Japs so strongly marked, it should not be many seasons until it is as common and as gleeful a stunt to ride "no hands" among the paths once trod in splendor by the Samurai, as now it is on any village main-street in America.

Smearing tar and feathers on Wilhelm's statue causes no untoward grief in Doorn apparently.

FOREIGN CHILDREN

"Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long in the land which the Lord, thy God giveth thee."

This was one of the commandments given to the children of Israel on their way to the Promised Land. It did not mean to be indulgent to the foibles of the old folks. The father and mother possessed the tribal lore of the wandering people, and the commandment meant to respect the precepts and traditions of the past which they possessed and passed on.

The new generation was to carry the old ways into the new country if it hoped to maintain itself there and make good against the natives. The Hebrews went into the land as conquerors, like Americans in Texas or California; they were a "peculiar people," not to be assimilated; and they maintained their traditions by a policy of non-intercourse and extirpation.

Among civilized peoples the days of extirpation are over; foreigners do not come to America as conquerors, and the great majority of those who have streamed into the country are willing to assimilate, and desire to become in every sense Americans.

Yet the race remembers its own honorable past and treasures its traditions. Every foreign child carries to America notions of propriety and right and wrong learned from his parents; and is a blow to self-respect and a shock to conscience when his people and all they stood for are despised by his new companions and he must apologize for what seemed sacred or defend what ought never to have been questioned.

True Americanization builds upon the foundations already laid. You cannot make good Americans by making bad Poles and Italians; and you cannot teach a boy to honor the flag by forcing him to dishonor his parents and his past.

A SPLENDID FIGHT

"John, the orange man," sold fruit to Harvard students and he was loyal to the university. One day a stranger asked him the meaning of the words, Christo et Ecclesiae (for Christ and the Church) on the Harvard shield. He said, "I don't exactly know, sir, but I think it means Down with Yale."

Men are like wolves; they hunt and fight in packs, and it is often hard for them to understand a loyalty that does not mean hostility to some other group.

This is explained by the agelong struggle between tribes for food and mastery—a struggle that went hard with the group that was not always ready for a fight, while the warrior tribes survived and left warlike children.

What is to be done with the fighting spirit in a world that feels or at least professes to believe in the brotherhood of all mankind?

To repress it is like sitting on a safety valve. It invites explosions.

The best hope seems to be to guide it into such friendly rivalries as John's words indicate, with the rivals finally becoming partners in a splendid fight of the whole human brotherhood against nature to learn her secrets and conquer her in perilous explorations and feats of engineering, or in fishing, mining and transportation, with the partners racing to outstrip others in service to all mankind.

Primitive man could prove his loyalty and capacity and courage by killing someone outside of the tribe. But there are better ways of doing it.

Everyone seems to be willing to forgive Francisco Villa, including Washington.

NIGHT LIGHTS

Ever walk through the baby ward in a hospital at midnight? Rows of little, softly breathing bundles, and at almost every step you take, somewhere in the ward a plaintive cry. At the door the night nurse is sitting, and by her side stares the night light, benevolently watching all the babies.

How many beginnings of great men has that unwinking night light seen? How many criminals, how many teachers, preachers, crooks and business men? The night light and the nurse are helping each one to a career of fame and shame. Yet none of us would bid the nurse or night light stop their growing up. "It takes all kinds to make a world," we say in a whisper.

Then take a walk through the baby ward in daylight. The babies are smiling, and their hands are clutching for something that is not there. We cannot but think that this and that softly breathing bundle will come to a good and happy destiny, and because we are human beings, and they are our kind, we keep on hoping.

MEN WHO WHISTLE

Whistling has been put under the ban in Agaña, principal city of Guam, if reports from that island possession of the United States may be believed. The order is said to have been issued by the governor of the island, an officer of the United States navy.

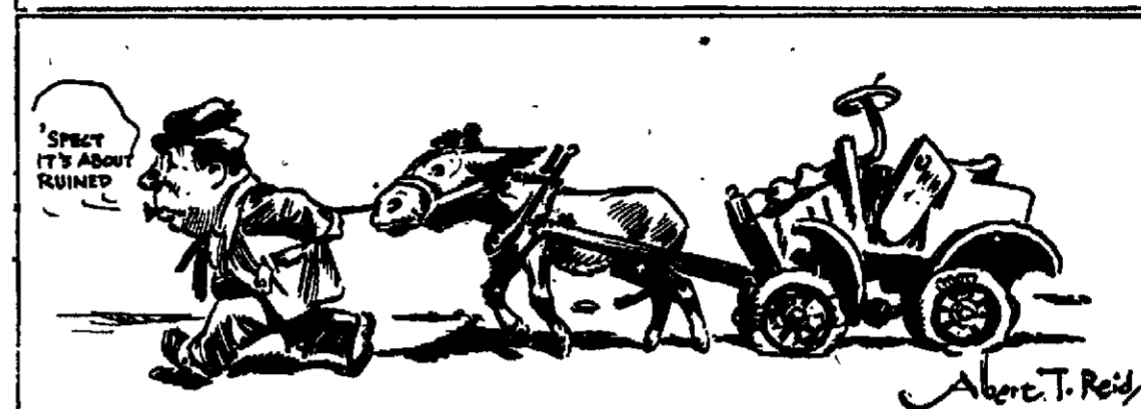

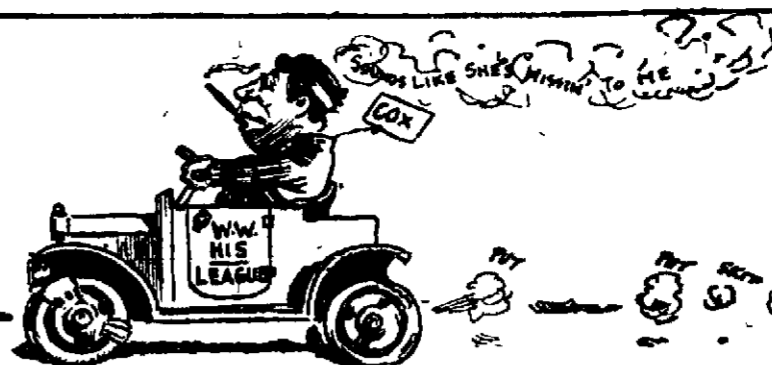

"The practice of whistling," the governor is quoted as saying, "is an entirely unnecessary and irritating noise which must be discontinued."

The "little brief authority" vested in the governor of Guam seems to have gone to his head. But quite aside from the petty tyranny of the order, the governor is wrong, absolutely wrong. Whistlers in Guam, possibly, like whistlers everywhere, get off the key occasionally; but off the key or not, the whistling man, take him by and large, is a contented man, rejoicing in his task and bent on giving an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. Some of his attempts at music may be irritating to tired nerves; but it is much better that the person with nerves be given a long rest than that the whistler be suppressed.

Whistling is an outward manifestation of an inward condition or frame of mind. The whistler is apt to be an optimist. He will not be found agitating strikes or preaching revolution. He believes the world is growing better, and nine times out of ten, he is helping in a practical way to make it better.

The world needs more whistling men, and it never needed them more than it does right now. —St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11. Practically every day now President Wilson may be seen riding in an open auto in Rock Creek Park or on the Virginia highway leading to Mount Vernon. The president wears a little stiff brimmed straw hat which he holds tightly with his right hand. He looks much older than a year ago; the lines in his face have greatly deepened. He still does only about 10 per cent of a normal day's work.

The cost of living and particularly the cost of food, continues to mount. Figures gathered by the Department of Labor show that on June 15 last the average family expenditure was 2 per cent higher than on May 15. In May the expenditure was 2 per cent higher than in April, and in April the expenditure was 3 per cent higher than in March. Since January of this year the family expenses have increased 9 per cent. The cost of food since 1913 has gone up on an average of more than 100 per cent.

How the Democratic convention happened to nominate Cox is explained in different ways by returning boom managers who have talked with Joe Tumulty.

According to Joe, it runs something like this: Bob Woolley turns up. "We could have put Mac over if it had not been for those confounded undated telegrams saying that Mac was not a candidate and did not want it."

Following him comes Carter Glass.

"We could have had an administration man if it hadn't been for that bale of hay, Mitchell Palmer. The dinged chump thought he had a chance to win himself and when he got to have swung in line and delivered his votes for McAdoo he was not there."

Along comes Mitchell Palmer and unloads his troubles on Joe.

"I could have won hands down if that dinged fool business of McAdoo hadn't been kept going. Of course everybody knew nobody wanted McAdoo and I was the logical candidate."

but when the critical moment came to swing the McAdoo votes to me they were not there. How do you expect to save a country, if you play that kind of politics?"

Next comes Ray Baker of Nevada. "Of course, Joe, we were with the old man all the time. The only thing to do was to nominate Wilson, but what can you do when you have a couple of selling-platers like Mitchell Palmer and McAdoo running around in a crazy hippodrome?"

HAY FEVER, ASTHMA, HIVES, ETC.

Protein is known as the builder or repair material in our diet, and it is found in large proportion in such foods as meat, fish, fowl and eggs.

Protein may gain access to the body in other ways than by food; for example, as in the case of hay fever and some forms of asthma, through the skin, as is observed, for example, in certain forms of eczema, and by bacterial infection, as seems to be the case in a number of obscure disorders.

The unfavorable reaction may take the form of hay fever, asthma, eczema, urticaria (hives), and other skin affections, acute and chronic digestive disturbances, and perhaps in certain forms of periodic headaches, various vague nervous disturbances, and in albuminuria not due to some other known cause.

Proteins are usually broken up by processes of digestion and their constituent parts absorbed by the body.

Particular parts or tissues of the body are usually predominantly sensitive to a given protein in a given individual. For example, one person may develop asthma from wheat while another individual may have eczema from the same cause. The well-known fact that certain individuals have an attack of urticaria (hives), from eating strawberries or lobster, is an example of protein sensitization.

The liability of becoming sensitive to proteins is to a large extent a hereditary trait. Not all individuals are subject to this possibility. It is most often manifested in childhood or in early adult life by some one or more of the previously mentioned abnormal conditions, but may be found at any age.

The tests for protein sensitization are made by slight scratches on the surface of the skin and rubbing in the test material. These tests, to be conclusive, should cover a large number of food substances and require at least one sitting of one hour, sometimes several sittings, as only twenty to thirty substances can be tested at one sitting.

From what has been said, it must not be concluded that protein sensitization accounts for all cases of asthma, hay fever and hives. Some of these are undoubtedly due to quite other factors. A person suffering from these disorders should accordingly consult a first-class physician and submit to a thorough examination, including probably a series of skin tests to discover protein hypersensitiveness.

Q What are the symptoms of syphilis and when do they begin to show?

A The first symptoms of syphilis is a chancre or sore which develops within two weeks after infection. Secondary symptoms are an eruption and mucous patches in the mouth, or throat, and tertiary symptoms are diseases of the heart and nervous system, locomotor ataxia, paralysis and paresis, etc. By competent treatment early in the course of the disease, it is possible to avoid secondary and tertiary symptoms.

CAMERA INSTEAD OF RIFLE

Big Game Hunters Get the Thrill of the Sport Without the Useless Slaughter.

It was a notable event in the history of the wild life of our country when the first big game hunter hung up his rifle and took to the woods with a camera.

Ever since the first photographer went afield with a sportsman, the camera man has been the best exponent and advertiser of the prowess of the man with a gun. During the days of the slow and cumbersome wet plate and long exposures the alert and sudden wild animal was about as unattainable pictorially as the canals of Mars.

The dry plate opened up great possibilities in the photographing of dead game in its haunts. From 1884 onward American hunters of big game joyously welcomed the startling pictures made by Laton A. Huffman of Miles City, Mont. Mr. Huffman was a true sportsman, a fine shot, and as a photographer of hunting scenes he long stood without a rival. Never will I forget the thrills that I received in his little old log cabin studio in "Milestown," when he showed me his stereoscope views of "elk and dead grizzlies, glory enough for one day"; a mountain sheep ram on the brink of a precipice, many buffalo-killing pictures, and antelope and deer galloping. I think that Mr. Huffman—who still lives and photographs—enjoys the distinction of having had more photographs stolen for publication without credit than any other camera man on earth; and that, I know, is a large order.

American sportsmen bailed with joy the birth of the light, ever-ready, universal-focus camera. It was the opening of a new and delightful field of Christian endeavor. It presented a highway of escape from the flood of game-slaughter photographs that had been sweeping over the continent like a deluge—"Masterpieces of Wild Animal Photography," by William T. Hornaday, in Scribner.

When Nature Conspires.

We are told that the "walking and climbing leaves" of Australia, were, for over half a century among the best attested of natural wonders.

It is related that a party of sailors, wandering inland, sat down to rest under a tree. A gust of wind shook to earth several dead and brown leaves. These, after remaining prone on the ground for a few minutes, proceeded to show signs of life and crawl toward the trunk, which they ascended, and attached themselves to their respective twigs.

Hence, the sailor-men, who promptly ran away, said the spot was bewitched.

The simple fact turned out to be that the so-called leaves were really leaf-shaped insects, having long pendulous legs, which could be folded out of sight, and possessing the chameleonic-like power of varying their color to correspond with that of the foliage they were clinging to.

Upon being shaken to the ground, instinct taught them to seek the shelter of the friendly leaves again as soon as possible.—Exchange.

Gas Tank Terrified Waiters.

Pandemonium reigned in El Prado cafe for a few fast and furious seconds, the Havana Post states.

Shortly after 8 o'clock, when the extra waiters were busy handling the evening's largest crowd, there suddenly burst out in the cafe a rapid succession of short, sharp, hissing sounds:

Past—past—past!

It seemed as though all Havana was suddenly giving the well known Cuban call for service. A hundred thousand people crowding about the cafe and shouting "Past, chien!" could not have created more excitement. Waiters looked under chairs, behind the bar, rushed to all their customers, wiped off tables frantically, tossed their napkins desperately in midair and gave other signs of frenzy.

The fuss did not begin to abate until the proprietor, red faced and sweating with exertion, discovered the source of the hissing sounds. A large cylinder of the carbonated gas in the corner of the cafe, had sprung a leak, the gas hissing mysteriously as each whiff of it escaped.

Vital Statistics.

One of the census men called at the home of a workingman in New York, noted in his neighborhood as a great reader and a wiseacre for statistics. He found the man poring over an encyclopedia.

"How many children have you?" asked the census taker.

"I have just three—and that's all there will be too," replied the man, looking up from his book of knowledge.

"All right, by why so positive?"

"According to this book here," said the man with deadly seriousness, "every fourth child born in the world is a Chinaman!"—Saturday Evening Post.

American Women Have Prettiest Feet.

A well-known French shoe manufacturer states that the shoe is the foundation of a woman's wardrobe. If she is not well shod, it spoils her appearance.

He says that American women have the prettiest feet in the world, and appreciate the value of the low-heeled shoe. For walking, this manufacturer insists the low-heeled shoe is the only one permissible. For wear around the house, he advocates sandals that hold the feet in shape, yet yield sufficiently to allow them to rest.

GOOD PLAYING MARKS OPENING OF GOLF ROUNDS

Chicago Player Leads in Day's Scores—Over 64 Score Under 80

Toledo, O., Aug. 11.—Leo Diegel of Lake Shore club, Chicago, with par 71, a record of the reconstructed course, yesterday led 234 starters in the first qualification round for the national open golf tournament at Inverness club.

With more than 64 players scoring under 80, contestants predicted that 159 would be required for 36 holes to qualify for the 72-hole test on Thursday and Friday.

Diegel, who was runner up to James Barnes in the western open tournament at Cleveland last year, was closely pressed for the lead. Jack Hutchinson, of Chicago, Harry Hampton, of Richmond, and Tudor Knapp, of Sioux City, an amateur, scoring 72. J. Douglas Edgar, of Atlanta, 73; six other contestants 74 and nine more, including Harry Vardon, British expert and Bobby Jones, southern champion, recording 75. Jack Burke St. Paul, Minnesota, state open champion, also got a 75.

Edward Ray, the other British contender, encountered too many bunkers and took 80 strokes. Willie MacFarlane of New York, had the distinction of scoring a 24 on the long second time, two under par and a record for that half.

Altho a small percentage of amateurs were entered, seven finished under 80 with Knapp leading, Jones second, John G. Anderson, of New York and Chick Evans, of Chi-

OLYMPIC TEAM MORALE SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Athletes Get Over the Upset Due to Long Ocean Voyage—Ready for Games

Antwerp, Aug. 11.—The morale of the American athletes here for the Olympic games has shown steady improvement since they landed on Belgian soil.

The men and women who will carry the American colors in the international contests were generally upset after the long ocean voyage and close confinement aboard ship.

They were encouraged, however, by the results of a workout at the Antwerp grounds, which gave them the first opportunity to test their muscles since the trip.

While army officials contended conditions aboard the Princess Matoka, which carried the army and civilian contingents to Antwerp, were such that the athletes had no grounds for complaint, Coaches Moakley and Robertson declared quarters aboard the vessel very congested. The coaches felt that the athletes might not be able to make their best effort in the contests as a result of the trying conditions under which the trip was made.

The congestion, besides making it impossible for the contestants to keep in the best physical condition, also put them in a bad mental condition which will not be conducive to good work on the field, the coaches said. Disgruntled oarsmen started today to train on the canal. The wrestlers and boxers started training in the Salonika garden.

Watson Big Hitter
Boston, Aug. 11.—Boston and Cincinnati divided a double-header yesterday, the home team winning the first, 4 to 3 in 11 innings, while the visitors took the second, a free-for-all affair, 13 to 10. Three pitchers were used on each side. Ruether was ejected from the first game for disputing decisions on balls and strikes. Watson made it five straight victories in winning the first game.

SPEECH HELPS.
Brooklyn, Aug. 11.—Squire Ebbets accompanies the Superbas on all trips. Before each game he makes a short speech to them in the clubhouse. It works magic on the players.

BEAT HIGH COST BY BUYING LONG WEAR ARTICLES

"Somebody ought to design a pocketbook that would cover the hand and fasten permanently around the wrist—you have to have your hand in your purse continuously in these days of high prices," says a representative of the Dakota Motor Co., local Goodyear Service Station dealer.

"It would save wear and tear on pockets by eliminating the necessity of dragging out your purse during waking hours.

"I'll bet the manufacturers of pocketbooks have cleaned up fortunes in the last four years of 'high-cost-of-living'." No purse can stand the wear and tear of constant handling. Even pigskin won't stand up under the strain.

"Food, clothes, safety pins and even the humble collar button have doubled in price because of the war! About the only useful article that can be bought at anywhere near pre-war prices is an automobile tire.

"You can still get quality tires that deliver astonishing mileage at about the same old price. I can vouch for sturdy Goodyear Clinchers in 30x3, 30x3 1/2 and 31x4 sizes. They make the best equipment for Fords, Chevrolets, Maxwells, Overlands, Bristols and Dorts. Tough Goodyear tubes assure perfect, lasting performance.

Goodyear Tires for Small Cars Are Popular Because Economical

There is nothing but disappointment in buying cheaply made tires that are announced as wonderful bargains at a few dollars each and then fail after brief terms of service.

Get exceptional mileage at exceedingly low cost in Goodyear Tires, of the 30x3, 30x3 1/2 and 31x4-inch sizes, built of Goodyear-selected materials and with Goodyear skill and care.

Due to their precise manufacture in the world's largest tire factory devoted to these sizes, their quality is most economically produced and therefore most economically employed.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell, Dorr or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires; ride farther and fare better.
